

WATCH FOR FREE CLASSES SOON

The Clio Center for the Arts is working to bring you free on line classes during this pandemic. Bear with us as we get the items, we need to hold these classes, and figure out the best possible formats and classes to hold. Our first class will be for the children. Parents if you could please give feedback by sending an email here or messaging us on Facebook, we would appreciate the help. Hopefully the first class will be sometime the first week of May.

Thank you in advance for your input
